RULES AND REGULATIONS

Entries to be placed on show tables 4:15 - 5:15pm

1. Judging begins at 5:30pm. Judging will be by a Canadian Rose Society judge. CRS Judging Guidelines will be encouraged. Ribbons to be attached to the winning entries. Judging to be completed by 6:30pm.
2. Exhibitors must be members of Huronia Rose Society except in specially noted classes #2 and #20. All specimen blooms must be grown by the exhibitor.
3. Entry tags should be correctly filled in, and completed, if possible, prior to arriving at the Show. Please name rose if possible. Securely attach the tag, except in Miniature and Decorative Sections, where they should be placed under or beside the entry. Contact Ellen Spencer for tags prior to show. 705-739-9101
Entry tags will be available at the show.
4. Please arrive with all rose exhibits in suitable containers ready to place on the show tables. Design entries to be completed prior to show- we do not have design work space available
5. Exhibitors are permitted 4 entries per specimen class, provided they are different cultivars (colours), unless otherwise stated.
6. All foliage must be naturally attached in the specimen classes.
7. The Show Chairperson has the right to divide any specimen class. A minimum of three of one colour, size etc. is required to warrant such a division.
8. In the Decorative Division, all designs must include rose(s) or some part of a rose plant, which may be obtained from any source. Any type of plant material, branches or decorative wood, dried or treated, may be used. A judicious use of painted material is permitted. Accessories are also permitted. Space allotted: 24" wide and 30" deep. No height restrictions.
9. Only the Rose Show Committee is permitted on the show floor during judging.

DEFINITIONS

As per the Canadian Rose Society Guidelines for Exhibiting and Judging Roses 2001

BLOOM: An individual flower past the bud stage and at any stage of opening thereafter, including the fully open stage.

BUD: An immature flower not sufficiently expanded to reveal its form. Sepals may be separated and down and petals beginning to unfurl with some colour showing, but at a stage when not more than two petals are unfurled.

COLLECTION: A number of specimens shown as one exhibit, may be in one or several Containers, SCHEDULE TO SPECIFY

CONTAINER: A receptacle in which plant material is exhibited. This may have the form of a vase for cultural exhibits or a pot, planter, hanging basket or urn for growing plants. SCHEDULE TO SPECIFY

CULTIVAR: A term meaning "cultivated variety". One which is maintained in cultivation through vegetative asexual propagation as opposed to a botanical "variety" which occurs and maintains itself true to type in the wild.

EXHIBIT: An entry placed in a show either for competition or display.

FULLY OPEN BLOOM: A mature bloom more than $\frac{3}{4}$ open. Stamens need not show.

NOVICE: A beginner at exhibiting roses.

ONE BLOOM PER STEM: A specimen without side growths or side buds.

SINGLE: A bloom with a single row of petals, usually 5 to 7.

SPECIMEN: An exhibit of “one bloom per stem” or a spray with a number of open blooms and/or buds.

SPECIES: A division of a genus with distinct characteristics. A rose found in nature, which will grow true from seed, with only minor variations, i.e., Rosa rugosa. “Rosa” is the genus name. “rugosa” is the species name.

SPRAY: A main or lateral stem with a number of blooms and/or buds. Sprays of Modern Roses must have two(2) blooms at least $\frac{1}{2}$ open while for Old Garden type roses require one (1) bloom at least $\frac{1}{2}$ open plus a bud showing colour. Early disbudding of the centre bud is permitted in any spray.

STEM: A plant structure carrying one or more blooms/buds and leaves
